The aim of our project is to create a database which contains a list of all transplants for hospitals to access and check a certain organ availability. The main users are the donors, the patients and the hospitals. Hospitals can make a request for a patient in need of an organ. In order to use our database, hospitals must register. Hospitals administrate requests. Donors and patients are provided with a user and password in order to check the requests.